

故 工學博士 廣 井 勇

Memoir of Isamu Hiroi, Dr. Eng.

Dr. Hiroi, emeritus professor of Tokio Imperial University, past president of Japanese C.E. Society, departed October 1st, from heart failure.

His name is inseparable from Japanese harbor engineering. He is an old guard of our engineering profession known by all who came in contact with him for his generous personality and technical ability. He was a revered personality and his loss is greatly deplored by the whole profession.

He graduated from Sapporo University, among his classmates being the famous Dr. Nitobe and Rev. Uchimura.
